

Hi, and thank you for downloading Snapanchors, to use simply a UI element, the option "Snap Anchors" should now be available with two variation "in this" and "in this and it's children", the first option will snap the anchors of the selected to its appropriate corners, the latter option will snap the anchors of the element and of its children.

